

EMPLOYEE SUCCESS STORY

Jessica Riley
Inventory Control Manager

In any successful manufacturing company, behind the scenes, there are dedicated professionals who play a crucial role in maintaining company operations. One such unsung hero is the inventory control manager. We're pleased to feature Jessica Riley, one of the the driving forces behind our seamless inventory management. Joining the Quantic Wenzel team in April 2022, Jessica was recruited from Arkansas. As one of the most thriving metro areas in the county, Jessica knew that relocating to Austin would afford her an excellent opportunity to advance her career and provide a better quality of life for her family. Jessica plays a critical role in helping us ensure our materials are where they need to be, when they need to be there. From overseeing stock levels and tracking shipments to strategizing on inventory turnover, Jessica handles it all. Her responsibilities extend beyond the stockroom, collaborating closely with procurement, operations, and finance to help keep production streamlined and efficient. Jessica stands as a shining example of dedication, expertise, and innovation. Her ability to manage complexities, foresee challenges, and optimize inventory has undoubtedly contributed to our growth and success. We extend our gratitude to Jessica for her exceptional contributions.

“

Moving to a new city to pursue a career opportunity can be daunting. In retrospect, I'm really glad I made the decision to join the Quantic Wenzel team in Austin. The training and support I've received from the leadership team has helped me to advance my career and hone my skills in inventory and supply chain management.
